⁷ Tank parts:

100 mm D10-T28 (no.3027) rifled gun from a Polish-made T-55 main battle tank

115 mm 2A20 smooth bore gun from T-62 main battle tank

BA-64 soviet armored car turret

IS-2 m1944 turret with 122 mm D-25T rifled gun

ISU-152 assault gun ML-20S (152 mm gun-howitzer).

⁸ Command variant. SN 207L001U. RN 8701. Part of the museum since 1991, comes from Slupsk.

⁹ Poland bought a small number of BTR-60PUs armed with SA-6 "Gainful" missiles.

¹⁰ With a "dummy turret" welded on the roof, instead of the generator.

¹¹ This vehicle was used by the East German Police (Volkspolizei), and since 1982 by the Polish Police (Milicja). It was returned to the museum on March 23, 2006 after a full restoration.

¹² In the museum since 1988. Vehicle without gun.

¹³ This vehicle is an early version of the SU-85 and was damaged during the battle near the Oder River (south of Kustrin) in February 1945.

¹⁴ These two SU-152s are displayed in the museum since 1997, they come from the Soviet Army Monument in Cybinka (Poland).

¹⁵ Original Soviet T-34/85 (dating from the end of 1944), built at the Tank Factory No.112 in Gorky. Chassis (SN 4120630) from the Tank Factory No.112 in Gorky. Turret (SN 2992) from the Tank Factory No.183 in Nizhnij Tagil, equipped with a ZiS-S-53 gun.

¹⁶ Polish post-WW2 version. SN 0730710. Registration numbers : early - yellow 2920, late - white 6936. In the museum since 1979, comes from Krosno Odrzanskie.

¹⁷ Polish armored recovery and repair vehicle on a T-34 chassis.

¹⁸ Armored recovery vehicle on a T-55 chassis.

¹⁹ SN 5902G020R. In the museum since 1994, comes from Wicko Morskie.

²⁰ This Luftwaffe artillery tractor is based on a Sd. Kfz. 8 chassis. This vehicle, which has the registration number WL 323863, was recovered from the Pilica River in 1999. The reconstruction was finished in 2003 and in 2005, it was in running condition. The original Maybach engine was replaced with a Russian KRAZ truck engine because of the missing parts.

²¹On January 18th, 1945, this Sd. Kfz. 251 belonging to the 2nd Company of the 19. Panzer Division sunk in the Pilica river. On July 26th, 1996 it was recovered from the river Pilica and, after renovation, given to Muzeum in Tomaszów.

²⁵This C2P was found in 2004 during works on a military area in South Germany. It is being restored to running condition.

²⁶Adam Rudnicki is getting ready for the reconstruction of the hull/body of a Vickers Mk E Type B tank. Once reconstructed, this would be the only complete existing Polish Vickers Type E Mk B. Adam Rudnicki has about 2 tons of parts (including an original turret) and technical documentation of the body drawn from an original vehicle. The reconstruction will begin in the first half of 2010 (information provided by Adam Rudnicki, email from November 2009).

²⁷One of two existing C7P tractor hulls, which will be restored to its original configuration. The other existing C7P hull was transformed (visually modified) into a T-26 tank (a BT-5/BT-7 turret was added to the hull during the restoration) and it is currently displayed at the Victory Park at Poklonnaya Gora, Moscow.

²⁸ Six-wheel-drive amphibian vehicle.

²⁹ Missile launcher version.

³⁰ Improvised Armored Car based on a Chevrolet Model 157 truck, built in 13 days by the Polish Home Army (Armia Krajowa) soldiers during the Warsaw Uprising in 1944. Its creator was Junior-Lieutenant "Jan" (engineer Walerian Bielecki), the chief engineer was "Globus" (Jozef Fernik). The car was named "Kubus" in honour of doctor "Kubus" (Fernik's wife), who died during the uprising (information provided by Rafał Białecki).

³¹ Cut-open hull in a very bad condition.

³² Tank with turret number 1147.

³³ Missile launcher version.

³⁴ SN 9K35M3.

³⁵ Only two IS-3 were bought by Poland in 1946/1947. This vehicle has factory number 703.605A58 and was built in May 1946. It was used several times in military parades, especially on May 1st.. In the 70s it went to the Orzysz Military Area where it served as a practise target, and in the 90s after renovation it went to the Museum in Fort Czerniakowski.

⁵⁶ This vehicle has factory number 703.604A81 and was built in April 1946. In 1951, it went to the Technical Officers Armoured and Mechanized School in Giżycko (Techniczna Oficerska Szkoła Wojsk Pancernych i Zmechanizowanych w Giżycku) and in November 1957 it went to the Officers Armour School in Poznań (Oficerska Szkoła Wojsk Pancernych w Poznaniu).

⁵⁷ Built in Czechoslovakia between 1951 and 1956 under Russian licence. This vehicle was for a moment lightly modified to call to mind a Jagdpanther during reenactment events.

⁵⁸ The upper part of the hull was recovered in 2006. The lower part of the StuG IV was recovered in July 2008 (see the link : <http://www.eksploracja.eu/forum/viewtopic.php?p=32366#32366>), and the vehicle is now restored to running condition.

⁵⁹ This tank was used by the Soviet forces. After it has been damaged, it was transferred to the workshop N° 264 in Stalingrad. After repairs, it was transferred to the Polish Army. It Served in 3 Training Armor Regiment.

⁶⁰ Before being transferred to the Museum, it was a monument in Baligród.
