M22 Locust – Roberts Armory WWII Museum, Rochell, IL (USA) – running condition

Serial Number 110. The tank is a former farm tractor and the original turret was removed. It had to be reproduced. More information here : <http://www.robertsarmory.com/resttech.htm>

Picture from the owner - <http://www.6thaarr.com/m-22-locust.html>

M22 Locust – Private Collection, Georgetown, TX (USA)

This particular Locust was sold as surplus after WW2 to be used as farm equipment. It was pulling farm machinery around a field in Indiana for years, then changed hands three times, one of the owners being Bayliss Restorations, Mims, FL (USA). It is currently undergoing restoration. The former owner replaced the original engine with a 300 chevy engine and got rid of the original engine. The current owner has put a 350 chevy engine instead

M22 Locust – Unknown location (USA?)

Previously owned by the World War II US Military Vehicle Museum, San Rafael, CA (USA). The turret seems to be a fake one

I'm looking for photos of those tanks :

any tank that I forgot....

This document is a compilation of photos published on the web. I would like to thank especially Rafał Białęcki, who deserved the most of the job on this document, and also the people who took these photos and put them on their websites, or sent them to me, and those who helped me doing these lists (particularly people of the AFV News Discussion Board). For any question, you can email me at soldat_ryan@hotmail.com
